EcoSecurities named 'Top Carbon Off-taker by Number of Deals' in New Energy Finance's Clean Energy League Table 2007

Dublin, March 5, 2008: EcoSecurities, a leading company in the business of sourcing, developing and trading carbon credits, has been named 'Top Carbon Off-taker by Number of Deals' in the Clean Energy League Tables 2007, developed by New Energy Finance, the world's leading provider of information and analysis in the renewable energy and low-carbon sectors.

This is the third consecutive year that New Energy Finance has released its annual league table, which ranks the year's leading investors, banks and lawyers in wind, solar, biofuels, energy efficiency, and other low-carbon energy. However, this is the first year that the rankings have included financial leaders in the burgeoning global market for carbon credits.

The 'Top Carbon Off-taker' category recognises the contribution that private carbon market firms have made in the primary Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) and Joint Implementation (JI) market, by assessing the deals in which they have acted as principals or agents.

After EcoSecurities, which has over 400 deals signed, Carbon Asset Management was ranked second in this category with 146 projects, with EDF Trading ranked third, with 110 projects.

Pedro Moura Costa, President of EcoSecurities, commented, "This achievement is testament to EcoSecurities' long-standing commitment to the CDM sector since 1997, and the diversity of our portfolio, which covers over 18 different technologies in over 36 countries."

New Energy Finance CEO, Michael Liebreich said, "These league tables present the most complete snapshot of the top players in clean energy in 2007. We heartily congratulate those that finished top of the table this year."

Data for the New Carbon Finance Clean Energy League Tables includes all activity to the end of 2007, and all data was provided by the firms themselves.
